True Aniline Leather - Chutney

$2,240 per hide

Step into the timeless elegance of True Aniline Leather - where luxury meets longevity. This leather ages like fine wine, embracing life and morphing gracefully with passing time, enriching its surface. True Aniline Leather is one of the most favoured types of leather with traditional craftsmanship using vegetable tanning, creating a thick and robust leather perfect for upholstery. With time, these pieces can develop a unique patina, essentially improving with age and bestowing a classic, rich leather look that stands the test of time. Available in 13 beautiful colours, True Aniline Leather merges luxury with longevity, promising a product that is both aesthetically pleasing and timeless.
